SENSATION IN HOUSE INQUIRY

Secretary of Merchant Marine League Arrested.

CRIMINAL LIBEL IS CHARGED

John A. Penton Taken Into Custody on Charges Preferred by Representative Steenerson of Minnesota, the Author of the Resolution Under Which the Olcott Committee Is Investigating Ship Subsidy Scandal.

Washington, April 6.—There was a sensational turn in the house inquiry into the ship subsidy scandal when John A. Penton, secretary of the Merchant Marine league, was arrested on an indictment charging criminal libel, based upon charges preferred by Representative Steenerson of Minnesota, author of the resolution under which the Olcott special committee is investigating allegations that two lobbyists are at work, one to further subsidy legislation and the other to put obstacles in its way. Mr. Penton had just concluded testifying before the special committee and was leaving the house office building when he was taken into custody by two local detectives. He was conducted to the office of the United States attorney, where he gave bail in the sum of $500.

Mr. Penton was arrested upon an indictment returned on March 30. He was charged with criminal libel in connection with certain editorials appearing in the December issue of the American Flag, the official organ of the Merchant Marine league. The indictment recites that Mr. Penton impugned the integrity of Representative Steenerson. It is set forth that the libel appeared under the heading "Steenerson Soon to Have a Chance."

In his testimony before the house committee Mr. Penton practically assumed responsibility for the statements in the American Flag reflecting upon the integrity of Representative Steenerson.

Penton Issues a Statement. Mr. Penton issued a statement saying, among other things, that, in the trial of the libel case, the Merchant Marine league would stand pat on the article and the "good motives" which prompted their publication.

It appears that before deciding to bring to the attention of the United States attorney statements that he believed to reflect upon his integrity Mr. Steenerson submitted the whole matter to Frank B. Kellogg of St. Paul, special counsel to the government in the Standard Oil case. Mr. Kellogg gave as his opinion that the Minnesota representative had been libeled criminally. Mr. Steenerson thereupon presented the case to United States District Attorney Baker, who turned it over to the federal grand jury.

In commenting upon the arrest of Penton, Representative Steenerson said:

"The statements published by the authority of Penton were defamatory and in my opinion an attempt at blackmail. It is not a matter in which I am interested personally. It is a question which concerns the country at large. The attacks authorized by the Merchant Marine league were undoubtedly intended to intimidate me. They were designed to scare me from what I construed to be my duty in opposing ship subsidy legislation. What the interests are back of this libel I do not know, but I think they will be shown up before this inquiry comes to an end."

FOR THE NEXT TWO YEARS
Ohio Operators and Miners Sign Wage Scale.
Columbus, O., April 6.—With National President Lewis in the city, state miners' officials and operators of the Pittsburgh vein, No. 8 district and Hocking Valley district, signed a wage scale for the next two years in accordance with the agreement reached last week at the Cincinnati conference.

President Lewis announced that scales had been signed for the next two years also in the Guernsey, Tuscarawas and Columbiana districts, and that scales probably would be signed within a few days for the Jackson, Massillon and Crooksville districts. The Hocking and Pittsburgh vein districts comprise more than two-thirds of the coal mined in Ohio.

Chief Killed by Train.
Houghton, Mich., April 6.—Charles Benech, chief of the Ojibwa tribe of Indians in Baraga county, was run over and killed by the South Shore train. He was an American citizen eighty years old. He became intoxicated during the electioneering and went to sleep on the tracks. The train cut his body in two.

George I. of England.
The king of England who could not speak the language of his kingdom was George I.

ELECTIONS IN MINNESOTA

Show a Slight Gain for the License Element.

St. Paul, April 6.—The elections throughout Minnesota showed slight gains for the "wets." At Fergus Falls the "drys" wrung their greatest victory from the license element, and the contests at Faribault and Madison developed features which give to the day's results unusual importance and interest.

Mayor John L. Townley of Fergus Falls went down to defeat before D. M. Brown. Mayor Townley has been blocking the action of the city council in its efforts to revoke the license of C. J. Bender for the past few weeks, and this had aroused the dry element to make a bitter fight to oust the saloons from the city. Bender was arrested this week on the charge of selling liquor to an habitual drunkard, and other like instances were called up during the campaign. The saloons were voted out for the first time in many years by a vote of 542 to 490.

At Faribault, in the only absolutely nonpartisan election in Minnesota, if not for all time, Dr. Nelson F. Erb beat the present mayor, George L. Smith, by 371 majority.

In Jacob F. Jacobson's town—"Madison"—"Jake's" own ward went "wet." In fact there was no one in his ward willing to run on the "dry" ticket. O. R. Nelson, candidate for the license element, was elected mayor over H. T. Hayden. However, there will be no saloons in Madison, it is believed, for the four aldermen in the council are still evenly divided between prohibition and license.

A special dispatch from Blue Earth also tells of an interesting campaign there, which resulted in voting out the saloons by a majority of four. There were 489 votes in all the wards, the heaviest vote ever cast in Blue Earth.

MORE TROUBLE IN PROSPECT

Fishermen in Lake Pepin Prepare for Legal Battle.

Pepin, Wis., April 6.—No sooner has one fishing season closed than trouble is started over the next year's fishing. A number of the wealthier fishermen of Pepin, who together are known here as the "Syndicate," have leased all the fishing ground on the Minnesota side of Lake Pepin from Minnesota Warden Ira A. Weeks. The other fishermen are dissatisfied, and are investigating the matter. They threaten serious trouble for the "Syndicate" when the latter's members set their nets. The other fishermen propose to take possession of the leased territory by force and start a lawsuit to prove that a state cannot lease government waters.

Minnesota Postoffice Robbed.
Montevideo, Minn., April 6.—The postoffice at Clara City, this county, was robbed. The robbers took the safe, which was a small one, in a wheelbarrow to the outskirts of the town and blew it open. They secured $25 in cash. No stamps were taken. There is no clue to the robbers.

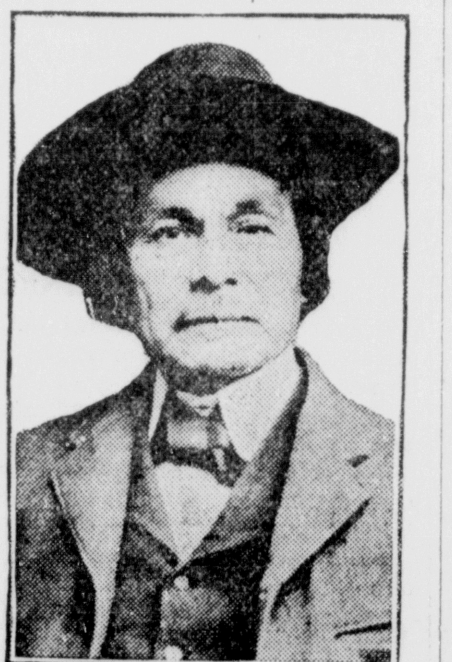

Lost Boys Found.
Wausau, Wis., April 6.—Two lost sons of Robert Brandt of Rothschild, for whom 300 men searched the woods all day, were found safe and sound. To get away from home and see the world they rode with a farmer to his home twenty miles distant, where they spent the night.

AN INDIAN CONVENTION.

First National Gathering to Take Place at Muskogee, Okla.

Indian chieftains of every tribe in North America will gather around the council fires in Muskogee, Okla., for ten days ending July 4 in the first national Indian convention ever held.

will attend, and invitations will be extended to President Taft and former President Roosevelt. An effort will be made to find Crazy Snake and have him present.

Senators Owen of Oklahoma and Curtis of Kansas and Congressman Charles Carter of Oklahoma will be on the reception committee.

ARCHBISHOP IRELAND.

Attack Made on the St. Paul Prelate by Bishop McIntyre.

ATTACKS ST. PAUL PRELATE

Bishop McIntyre Arraigns Archbishop Ireland.

St. Paul, April 6.—Following the publication of a statement from Archbishop Ireland regarding the Roosevelt-Vatican incident and the Methodist propaganda in Rome a local paper received a statement from Bishop Robert McIntyre of the Southern Minnesota conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, who is at present visiting in Saratoga Springs, N. Y. Following is the authorized interview with Bishop McIntyre:

"A telegram from my home city shows that Archbishop Ireland has again attacked the Methodist Episcopal church and dragged it into the Roosevelt episode in Rome, when it had no part or share in the matter. 'He calls my people vile, dishonest and unchristian. I bore the Fairbanks slander from him without reply, but my patience is now exhausted. I hereby brand John Ireland a double-tongued falsifier of God's people, a cowardly accuser of men better than himself, who are offering Italians the free grace of God without any terms of priestly monopoly.'

"I also challenge him to debate the question in American fashion in the open forum when I reach St. Paul. I have great Christian love for the Roman Catholic people, but the papal machine has a blood red record that stains centuries of history.

"I notice the other Roman prelates who discussed the issue are not so venomous as Ireland. He seems to fear Methodism, and with good reason, for it stands for justice, liberty, open minded brotherliness and equal gospel privileges to all."

Replying to Bishop McIntyre's statement, Archbishop Ireland said, in part: "The message received from Bishop McIntyre is beneath my notice. He need not trouble himself about a debate with me on his arrival in St. Paul. I stand upright straight before men who deal in facts or arguments. I run away from mud slingers."

ADMITS PAYING OVER THE MONEY

But Witness Declares It Was Not for Bribery.

Pittsburg, April 6.—The promise of District Attorney William A. Blakeley that the grand jury's presentment naming men high up in the graft scandal would come during the afternoon was not made good, but the county prosecutor said it seemed a certainty that this much awaited stage in the graft probe soon would be reached.

Despite this disappointment the day was not without its sensations. A surprise came in the plea of Charles W. Friend, vice president of the Clinton Iron and Steel company, that he had no defense to make of the charges against him. Friend, a son of the late J. W. Friend of the Pressed Steel Car company, had been indicted for the payment of $500 to former Councilman Charles Stewart.

In admitting the payment of this money to Stewart, Friend explained that a bridge ordinance favorable to his company had been brought up in council and killed. He and his father, however, were still anxious to see the bill passed and "in order to stop any newspaper talk" about the resurrection of the bill he had, at Stewart's suggestion, he said, paid $500.

The purpose of the money was not, according to Friend, a bribe to councilmen, but to newspaper men. Instead the money was given to councilmen.

Stewart's version of the affair was contrary. He said the money was paid by Friend to influence the passage of ordinances naming the Second National and the Farmers' Deposit National banks as city depositories. Friend recently was a director in each of these banks.

CALLS OFF A RECEPTION

Roosevelt Disapproves of Action of Methodists.

IN MOST VIGOROUS FASHION

The Former President of the United States Deprecates the Religious Tumult Caused by the Vatican Incident, Which He Regards as Personal to Himself—Many Persons Approve His Attitude.

Rome, April 6.—The chief development in the Roosevelt-Vatican incident was Mr. Roosevelt's repudiation of an attempt of the Methodist organization here to interpret his action as an endorsement of their work.

This repudiation took the form of calling off a reception to the members of the American colony, which was to have been held at the embassy, and it resulted directly from the issuance of a statement by Rev. R. M. Tipton, pastor of the American Methodist church, in which he severely arraigned the Roman Catholic church.

Mr. Roosevelt continues to deprecate, in the most vigorous fashion, the religious tumult caused by the incident, which he regards as personal to himself, and continues entirely confident that his countrymen, Catholic as well as Protestant, when the facts in the case are clearly and dispassionately examined, will sustain his position.

When the Vatican statement, likening the situation to what might occur in Germany if he visited the Polish Separatists after seeing the emperor, was called to Mr. Roosevelt's attention he said:

"If the German emperor should place as a condition to an audience that I should not see the Poles I should make a similar reply: 'Upon that condition I shall be compelled to forego the pleasure of an audience.'"

A phase of the situation which is attracting increased attention here is the open disapproval of the Vatican's action expressed by numerous Catholics. This is not confined to laymen, but extends to the hierarchy and even to the sacred college itself. Some of the cardinals privately have expressed dissent from action which places the church in a position in any way hostile to Mr. Roosevelt.

Placed in a False Position.

Catholics dwell on the many evidences of his friendship while he was president, and assert that the church is being placed in a false position towards the former president and America. Responsibility is placed on the shoulders of Cardinal Merry Del Val, the papal secretary of state. An eminent ecclesiastic is reported to have said: "It is not the church, but the private act of the Spanish secretary of state against the colonel of the Rough Riders in Cuba."

Merry Del Val's father, formerly the Spanish ambassador to the Vatican, who is now in Rome, and who often complained of the haughty and boastful attitude of the United States in the days of Spain's defeat, said to a friend:

"It seems providential that my son should be the man to humble a Yankee president."

Mr. Roosevelt has received many messages, not only from friends in the United States, endorsing his action, but from people throughout Europe, many of whom he does not know. Hundreds of telegrams from Catholics and from Protestants in America, congratulating him on his stand relative to the conditions imposed by the Vatican, have reached him, and when he returned to his hotel he found an American priest, now located in Rome, who warmly felicitated with him upon what he had done.

King Victor Emmanuel visited Mr. Roosevelt and, following a pleasant chat, they motored to the barracks, where they witnessed a series of maneuvers.

In company with Professor Jesse B. Carter of the American School of Classical Studies in Rome, he spent considerable time exploring the capitol forum.

Signor Ferrar, sovereign grand commander of the supreme council, Ancient Scottish Rite, with a deputation, called at his apartments and conferred upon him a high Masonic title. Mr. Roosevelt delivered a brief address.

Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt dined at the British embassy as the guests of Sir J. Rennell Rodd.

Killed by Game Warden.

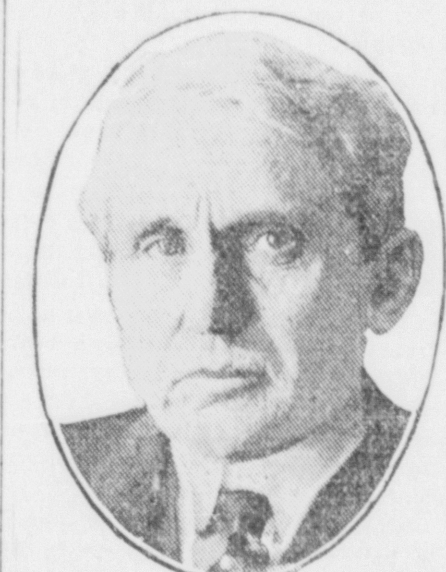

Ely, Minn., April 6.—Fred B. James, deputy state game warden, at a range of 400 yards and with a cheap revolver shot through the middle of the forehead and almost instantly killed Andrew Pelco on Little Round lake, one mile from here. The victim was violating the law and refused to surrender.

Minnesota Miner Killed.

Eveleth, Minn., April 6.—Matt Miner, a miner at the Adams property, was struck by a skip and killed. He was unmarried.

FRANK B. KELLOGG.

Pleads for Higher Salaries for Judges.

PLEA FOR HIGHER SALARIES

Made by Frank B. Kellogg on Behalf of Judges.

Washington, April 6.—In company with forty other prominent lawyers Frank B. Kellogg of St. Paul appeared before the house committee on the judiciary to urge favorable action on the Moon bill increasing the salaries of federal judges.

Mr. Kellogg told the committee that the government could never hope to compete with corporations in the matter of compensation. "I do not believe, however," said Mr. Kellogg, "that it is necessary to pay a man as much to sit on the bench as for some other services. The honor and dignity and the life tenure are always attractive. It is becoming more and more difficult, however, to get the best men at the bar to go on the bench. The prizes and emoluments of the legal profession within recent years are such as to act as a deterrent. The same thing is true in other professions. The judges should be made independent and should be paid fairly and justly for their work and I believe this bill provides a reasonable salary for them and should pass."

RESULT OF DINNER AT WHITE HOUSE

Congressmen Endeavor to Reconcile Differences.

Washington, April 6.—As a direct result of the conservation dinner at the White House members of congress from public lands states and others who hold membership on the public lands committee of the senate and house are endeavoring to reconcile their differences over proposed conservation legislation.

While no measure introduced has obtained the support of a majority of the members of the two committees, it was said that the Western members are in substantial agreement concerning a new bill for the withdrawal of public lands for various purposes. Such a measure, it is said, is to be introduced simultaneously in both the senate and house, which will include the following features:

Authorizing the president to withdraw public lands in the United States and Alaska for public uses, or for examination and classification to determine their character, use, value and disposition.

Providing that such examination and classification shall be promptly initiated after withdrawal; that the classification shall be concluded as soon as possible, and the lands shall then be restored to appropriation and disposition under the law applicable thereto.

Authorizing the president to make withdrawals pending submission to congress or recommendations for legislation.

Requiring the secretary of the interior to report all withdrawals at the beginning of the next regular session of congress after date thereof.

Ratifying and confirming all withdrawals heretofore made and now existing.

Providing that all withdrawals shall remain in force until revoked by the president or by an act of congress.

Meets Horrible Death.

Spooner, Minn., April 6.—McNiel, an employee in the Shevlin-Mathies Lumber company yards, met a horrible death. He was hauling a load of lumber on one of the unlighted tracks to the lumber piles, when his car became derailed and the load fell upon him, forcing him against another load on an adjoining track, four feet away, crushing him to death.

Shot Down by Bank Robbers.

Pittsburg, April 6.—A bank robbery with Wild West features was perpetrated by four desperadoes in McKees Rocks with the slaying of one man and the possible fatal shooting of two others. The robbers, covering their escape with volleys of revolver shots, got away with at least $400 in cash from the offices of the Victor Banking company.

VICTORY FOR THE SALOON ELEMENT

A BRIDGE WAS HIS DREAM.

Career of Dr. Thomas Rainey, the "Father of the Queensboro Bridge." Dr. Thomas Rainey, eighty-five years old, scientist, author, traveler and the "father of the Queensboro bridge," who died recently in his home at New York, was born on Dec. 9, 1824, in Yonkersville, N. C. When his father thrashed him he ran away and settled in the west. In 1853 he went to South America and traveled there seven years. Then he studied steam navigation in Europe and, going to Rio Janeiro, built and managed a fleet of ferriboats on the bay there. He was for a time United States consul in Bolivia, and he explored the Amazon. Afterward he established other steamboat lines, and he wrote several works of travel and discovery.

When in 1902 the city of New York took up the great project of building the Queensboro bridge, which he had struggled in vain for twenty-eight years to accomplish, Rainey said, though he had spent his fortune and racked his life almost to pieces, he was glad to have his dream realized even by the hands of Father Knickerbocker. Rainey and his associates, Austin Corbin, John D. Crummins and others, planned a $6,000,000 structure with four railroad tracks and an equal number of carriage and foot ways. New York amplified this into a $17,000,000 span. The stumps of the piers of the Rainey bridge, hard by the Astoria shore, still are visible at low tide. Dr. Rainey was ill when the Queensboro bridge was opened formally, but on May 12, 1909, he walked across the structure in his slippers.

Upon his return to America from Bolivia Dr. Rainey bought a home in the Ravenswood district of Long Island City by the East river. One moonlight night, sitting smoking on his piazza, looking out over the water the vision of a Blackwell's island bridge rose up before him. From that time he devoted his life and fortune to the project.

SMOKELESS LOCOMOTIVE.

Chicago Invention Said to Have Been Successfully Demonstrated.

A successful demonstration of the smokeless locomotive which has been tested in service on the Chicago Junction railway for several weeks and which Francis B. Doyle, its inventor, asserts will help solve the smoke problem in large cities was made the other afternoon in Chicago for the benefit of members of the city council and representatives of the principal railroads.

The engine is operated on what is called the "Doyle" system, the principle of which is to secure perfect combustion of the gases in the coal without allowing them to escape from the stack in the form of smoke. Instead of feeding the fire the firebox is filled and there is no draft through the stack. A current of air is forced through the bed of coal by a pair of fans, consuming the gases in the coal and leaving a bed of coke, which is consumed more slowly.

It is asserted that the perfect combustion secured with this device results in a saving of 25 to 35 per cent in fuel, besides the saving in continuous stoking of the fire.

To Hold Grain Trade.

Ottawa, Ont., April 6.—The government engineer told the house committee that, in order to hold the grain trade, sooner or later Canada will have to build a canal from Edmonton to Lake Superior.

Majority of Wisconsin Towns Favors License.

MILWAUKEE ELECTS SOCIALIST

Emil Seidel Chosen Mayor of That City by More Than Seven Thousand Plurality—Newly Elected Official Has Been Active in Municipal Affairs for Many Years—Many of the Big Cities Go "Wet."

Milwaukee, April 6.—The most strenuous campaign ever waged in Wisconsin by the Anti-Saloon league, which resulted in the holding of elections in nearly 300 cities, villages and townships, resulted in a striking victory for the "wets." Three out of every four places which held an election either remained or returned to the "wet" column.

Many of the biggest cities of the state were in the list, such as Racine, with 30,000 population; Fond du Lac, 25,000; Beloit, 15,000; Janesville, 25,000; Kenosha, 15,000; Green Bay, 28,000, and all these cities went "wet," despite a campaign in which thousands of dollars were spent in the purchase of the next paper in every one of the cities.

The Anti-Saloon league even tried to have an election in Milwaukee, but were unable to get enough signatures to their petitions to allow the sentiment of the city to be taken.

Milwaukee has elected its first Socialist-Democratic mayor by 7,500 in Emil Seidel. Pitted against him was John M. Boffel, Republican, and Vincent J. Schoenecker, Democrat, the latter considered the "crown prince" of the Rose regime, and backed by his political machine.

Emil Seidel, the newly elected mayor of Milwaukee, has been active in municipal affairs for many years. A patternmaker by trade, he has been affiliated with the Socialist party almost since the party was first organized in this city. He has served for several years as alderman, and been particularly interested in the welfare of children and young people.

Esposued Cause of Workingmen.

Several years ago he instituted a municipal investigation of conditions surrounding young people to ascertain what steps might be taken to provide entertainment that would keep them away from the streets and the dive saloons. He has also been an advocate of public comfort stations. While at all times espousing the cause of workingmen as against employers he has been fair and his suggestions have often been well received even by those who opposed him politically. He is one of the few traveled students in the local Socialist party.

The feature of the campaign this spring was that the platforms of the three parties were essentially the same. The platforms of all three parties, which were similar, advocated home rule, initiative and referendum and regulation of the liquor traffic.

Victor L. Berger, a national character and leading Social Democrat, was elected alderman at large.

Other candidates elected on the city ticket of the Social Democrats are:

Carl P. Dietz, city controller; Daniel W. Hoan, city attorney, and Charles P. Whitnall, city treasurer.

Franz C. Eschweiler was elected circuit judge of Milwaukee county over Julius E. Roehr, the Milwaukee bar nominee.

Outside of Milwaukee the interest throughout the state centered in the vote on the question of "wet" or "dry." Among other larger cities to vote for license were: New Richmond, River Falls, Hudson, Marinette, Delavan, Monroe and Trempealeau.

Egerton changed from "wet" to "dry" by six votes. Other towns to change from wet to dry were Barron, Gays Mills, Alma Center and Coon Valley.

DEMOCRATS WIN IN CHICAGO

Elect Twenty-one of Their Aldermanic Candidates.

Chicago, April 6.—In the election for one alderman from each of the thirty-five wards here the Democrats elected 21 candidates, the Republicans 12 and the independents 2.

The election was characterized by a crusade by the Municipal Voters' league, a nonpartisan organization, against the selection of alleged "gray wolves" for the new city council. The new city council will be composed of 39 Democratic members, 29 Republicans and 2 independents.

Except for the arrest of about forty saloonkeepers for keeping open during the voting time the election was quiet.

The result of the election gives the Democrats a majority in the new council, the Republicans having had a majority in the previous council.

Incomplete returns on the local option issue voted on in 240 cities and towns throughout Illinois indicated gains for the "wets."

These figures showed that 32 towns changed from dry to wet, and 13 towns changed from wet to dry. Of 93 towns 48 voted wet.

Last Saturday there was fire in every direction, but there was no particular damage done. Mr. Blade and Dan Chord had to fight fire for some hours. Mr. Blade had the misfortune to fall on a wire fence and cut his arm and nose quite badly.

Mrs. Maghan has been having quite a time with her eyes.

Mrs. M. E. Hunt passed through Esdon last Thursday on her way to Deerwood to see her son, Charley, who had a severe attack of heart trouble. He was better before she reached him but we have not heard from his since.

Miss Esdon was feeling better the other day and called on several of her friends, something she has not been able to do since she fell and broke her arm and wrist last fall.

Mrs. S. A. Cord and Katie Blades went to Brainerd and spent the night one day last week.

NEW CONSCIOUS ANAESTHETIC

Boston Doctor's Discovery Along the Lines of Dr. Jonnesco.

Dr. John J. Hurley of Boston has announced the discovery of a new method of producing conscious anaesthesia, both bloodless and painless, in human beings. The most delicate operations, he asserts, may be performed on the brain and any part of the head, the eye, the ear, the nose and the throat with absolutely no discomfort to the conscious patient.

Dr. Hurley's method, it is said, will be of the greatest use in the cases of patients suffering from diseases that prohibit the use of ether and chloroform, such as consumption and acute lung affections.

The new method consists of an injection of a solution of cocaine adrenaline and salt solution beneath the periosteum, a delicate membrane covering the bones of the body. The adrenaline is a substance made from the so called supra renal bodies, which are small glandular structures resting upon the kidneys.

Dr. Hurley asserts that his method has proved highly successful.

An Awful Insult.

"Why, Susan," said a mistress to her maid of all work, who had been given an evening off, "what was the matter that you came home so early last night? Didn't you enjoy yourself?"

"Up to the supper, ma'am," was the reply, "everything was like heaven, but then I received an insult, and it was my place as a self-respecting young woman to return home."

"Who insulted you?"

"My young man. He had the impudence to ask me if my program was full, and I'm sure I'd never had nothing but a song with a glass of lemonade, and if you'd been in my place, ma'am you'd 'a' done as I done."

Love and a Shining Mark.

Percy—I came to ask you for the hand of your daughter.

Goldrox—Which one?

"Why, Elsie?"

"Oh, she's in school yet! She wouldn't think of such a thing."

"Well, Ethel, then?"

"Oh, Ethel is too young!"

"Then give me Mary in marriage. She's old enough."

"Oh, yes; Mary is old enough to know better!"—Yonkers Statesman.

Practical View.

"So you believe in marrying for love?" asked the innocent maid.

"Yes, to a certain extent," replied the fair widow, "but marrying for love without a side issue of bread and butter is like sipping the froth from a glass of soda water."—Chicago News.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Mrs. E. C. Blanchard has returned from a visit with friends at Stillwater.

The Y. M. C. A. bath room and gymnasium are now in perfect running order. Drills are held every Thursday evening.

Albert Warren, son of W. A. Warren, of Garrison, shot a large bear last week and captured four cubs. As the lad is but 13 years of age, he is proud of the exploit. The carcass of the old bear brought $26.

Mr. F. Camp, president of the First National bank of Durango, Colo., and a brother of Dr. J. L. Camp, is in the city for a few days. Miss Irma Camp will return with him next Monday and will visit a few weeks in that city.

C. N. Parker and W. H. Topping left last evening for the Pacific coast, their destination being Tacoma. They have just closed a contract with the Northern Pacific company to put in a foundry and shop at that place and to operate the same for a number of years. Mr. Topping will meet his wife in Tacoma, she having been on the coast all winter, and they will return in about four weeks, but Mr. Parker will remain until the work is under way. This will in no manner interfere with their foundry at Brainerd.

MYRA KELLY, THE WRITER.

How Ghetto Child Life Depicter Got Her Start as an Author.

Myra Kelly (Mrs. Allan Macnaughton), the American educator and author, affectionately known to many thousands of readers as the writer of stories of ghetto children in New York city, who died recently in Torquay, England, was born in Dublin, Ireland, about thirty years ago.

Ten years or so ago a newspaper man was dining one evening with Dr. James T. Kelly, who asked for advice concerning his daughter's troubles with magazine editors. This seemed like the preface to a familiar story—the young woman had literary ability which the editors persistently refused to recognize. What was to be done?

But the story was not along that familiar line.

"My daughter Myra," said Dr. Kelly when his companion asked how he could help, "is teaching in a downtown east side school. All of us at home have been entertained by her stories of her pupils, and I urged her to write some of them. She was timid about it because of the tales of often rejected manuscripts by unknown writers and did not say that she would make the trial."

"Unknown to me she did, though, and determined to get over the agony of unanimous rejection as soon as possible, she made three copies of her story and posted one each to three magazine editors. This morning she came to me in dismay with three letters from three editors, three checks and three requests for more stories."

Dr. Kelly's companion agreed to act as diplomatic agent, saw the three editors, settled the matter of first choice by lot and gave the bewildered young schoolteacher's promise of other stories in turn to the other two editors. That was the unusual manner of entrance into the field of story writing of Myra Kelly, then a teacher in the primary grade of public school No. 147 in New York.

The opinions of the magazine editors were speedily justified. Readers demanded more stories about "Isidore Belchatsky," there were enthusiastic encores for further comment by "Morris Mojselsky," subscribers would not be denied more of the wisdom of "Becky Zalmonowsky," and "Patrick Brennan," whose father had resisted the tide which had swept most of his race away from poverty hollow, had friends by the thousand among magazine readers.

For her first story Myra Kelly was glad to accept $50. Within a year she got $500 for every story she wrote.

THE MULE'S INTELLIGENCE.

"Dat of mule knows dat plowin' time has come," said Brother Dickey. "Wen I gone ter de barn ter feed him dis mawmin' he had done kicked de do' loose, jumped two wire fences an' swummed de millpond ter de big woods. Wen you stops ter consider de few advantages de mule hez had de intelligence er mere man can't hol' half a candle ter him!"—Atlanta Constitution.

IF YOU WOULD LOOK ALL OVER TOWN

Your gaze would become fixed upon our Spring line of Nettleton Shoes and Oxfords for Men. Some wearers desire fine materials in their footwear; others are interested in the shape, fitting qualities, and a well balanced appearance; while all want, and justly so, the equivalent of the cost in the wearing returns.

The wearer's requirements have been a source of constant study to the makers of Nettleton Shoes, and have become a fixed principle in their construction. Only the best leathers are used, and fine workmanship is in evidence down to the last detail.

These shoes will qualify under any demand you make upon them; and with constant wearing will keep your annual shoe bill at the lowest possible point.

This is the store that will give you polite, considerate attention, whether you come to buy or not.

CLOTHIERS AND GENTS' FURNISHINGS

Last of the Cherokee Schools.

When the Cherokee seminary at Tahlequah, I. T., was destroyed by fire the other day all the personal effects of the 200 students living in the dormitories were lost. The seminary was one of the historic institutions of the Cherokee Nation. It was built in 1856. This was the last of the national Cherokee schools. The Cherokees hauled material overland seventy-five miles to build their two seminaries, and they have maintained them at their own expense for more than half a century. The impending dissolution of the Cherokee tribe is so imminent that it is not likely that the building will ever be rebuilt.

Not Satisfactory.

The judge stared hard at the accused man.

"You are charged," he said, "with robbing a hamburger cheese factory. Have you anything to say?"

"Judge," the prisoner heartily replied, "I was absolutely driven to it by hunger."

The judge shook his head portentously.

"Six months at hard labor for the larceny and six months for the excuse," he growled. "Call the next case!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

KEENE & McFADDEN

First National Bank Block Brainerd, Minnesota

Again we find it necessary to revise our list, as pretty much of everything, especially on the "north side," has been sold, except "OUR HAPPY HOME." This we propose to keep, and expect to live and die in BRAINERD. In 1881 we cast our lot here in BRAINERD, and while we have seen many "ups and downs," we have never lost faith in BRAINERD and CROW WING COUNTY, and the prospects never looked brighter than it does at this time, and we still maintain that a DEED TO A HOME IN BRAINERD is worth more than a bushel of RENT RECEIPTS. If you want to buy city property, farm or mineral lands, see us, as we have a large list and many choice bargains. If you want to sell city property or lands, list with us. Our motto is "GIVE EVERY MAN A SQUARE DEAL."

LET CONTRACT FOR INSTALLING PUMP

WHITES GET THE BUILDING

White Brothers are the Successful Bidders on the Cement Work and Building

The Water and Light board on Tuesday evening let the contract for installing the large new pump recently purchased to be added to the water plant. The contract for installing the pump was let to the Slipp Gruenhagen company, that company being the lowest bidder.

The contract for erecting the building and putting in the foundations was let to White Bros., they being the lowest bidders on that work. The following were the bids on the two propositions:

Building building, etc.:
White Bros. $457.80

A. Everett..... 575.00
E. H. Husemann..... 707.00

The bids on installing the pump were as follows:
Slipp-Gruenhagen Co. $85.00
L. W. Sherlund..... 960.00

The new pump will be installed in an addition built on the east side of the present brick structure. It was the first intention to move the filters and put into that room but it was found that it would be cheaper as well as more convenient to put it on the east side of the building and erect a house for it.

The Electric Eel.

The electric organ of the electric eel is in no sense a storage battery, but a contrivance by which electric energy is liberated at the moment when it is required. At rest the organ shows so small an electromotive force that a good galvanometer is required to detect it, but a sudden nervous impulse from the eel's spinal cord raises a potential of many volts with very little heat and so small an expenditure of matter as to defy the most expert chemist to weigh it.—Youth's Companion.

THOMAS BARKER DEAD

Thomas Barker, of St. Mathias, but also well known in Brainerd, died at his home Monday night after a lingering illness, of complication of diseases, aged 67 years.

Mr. Barker was well known in Crow Wing county and was highly esteemed by all who knew him and his loss is sadly felt in the vicinity in which he lives. He leaves to mourn his loss a widow and eight children, three boys and five girls. The funeral will be held at his home in St. Mathias and interment will be made in Evergreen cemetery at Brainerd, Rev. J. R. Alten officiating.

Mr. Barker was a veteran of the Civil War, being a member of the 5th Vermont volunteers.

AN ALBINO MUSKRAT

Backus Trapper Secured One and Will Have it Mounted—Mink Farm Near Pine River

An Albino muskrat, which is a great rarity, was captured a short time ago by Aug. Radue, a trapper living on Norway brook, 7 miles east of Backus, Minn. The animal is pure white, with pink eyes and very handsome. Mr. Radue sent it to this city and will have it mounted. Few of those familiar with the animals of Minnesota have ever seen one of these white muskrats.

Another curiosity in this city is a mink farm which is being conducted by a farmer near Pine River. The owner has sixteen ponds netting into the ground surrounding a swamp and pond sufficiently deep so that the mink will not dig under and is said to be getting a goodly stock of these fur bearing animals. He expects that it will prove a remunerative venture.

MEETING OF CENSUS TAKERS

ASK FOR PROPOSITIONS

County Commissioners Set May 14th as Date for Hearing Propositions to Lease Poor Farm

The county commissioners yesterday received the offer of the Northwestern Improvement company for the lease of the mineral rights on the Crow Wing county poor farm and set the 14th day of May as the time at which this and other propositions would be considered for the lease of the property.

The resolution passed stipulated that the lease should be in terms similar to the leases made on state lands and that the minimum royalty which would be considered would be the sum of 25 cents per ton.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

Proceedings of County Commissioners' Meeting Held on April 5th, 1910

Meeting called to order at 10:00 o'clock a. m.
All members present except Commissioner Keinow.

Minutes of last regular meeting read and approved.

It was reported that the "Buffalo Creek" bridge on the Crow Wing road was out of repair. A motion was carried that a committee be appointed to inspect the bridge and report at the next meeting. The chairman appointed Commissioners Krech, Keinow and Poppenberg.

Several committees from township boards appeared and addressed the commissioners on the matter of appropriations for roads. Action on these was deferred until later in the day.

A letter was read from J. O. Anderson, road overseer in Perry Lake Town, stating that the Mississippi river bridge near Cuyuna must be repaired at once. The matter was referred to Commissioner Edquist with power to act.

Petition for the incorporation of the "Village of Cuyuna" to include about five and one-half square miles of territory, was before the board. Mr. Poppenberg objected to such a large tract being included. A motion was made and seconded that the petition be accepted and an election ordered. Commissioner Edquist and Keinow voted aye, and Commissioners Erickson and Poppenberg voted no. Commissioner Krech not voting. The motion was therefore lost and was so declared by the chairman.

Requisition for supplies at the farm for the ensuing month was read and ordered purchased.

The following report of the farm for the month of March was read and approved.

Receipts by sale of produce.....$ 40.80
Credit by board of inmates.....15.50
Disbursements for labor.....76.00
Bills pending.....40.58
Average number of inmates, 1.

Board adjourned until 2 p. m.
All members present.

Prof. J. A. Wilson, Supt. of Schools, submitted appointment of Mrs. J. A. Wilson as Asst. Supt. for forty days during the year as provided by law. Upon motion the appointment was confirmed by the board.

Letter from Albert Bjork, road overseer, in regard to the Pine River bridge in Sec. 9, Twp. 136, Rge. 27, was laid on the table until other work in that neighborhood should be attended to.

Petition for a joint school district in Crow Wing and Aitkin counties to include sections 1 and 12 in Bay Lake town was presented. Upon motion the petition was referred back to Supt. Wilson for his approval.

Bond of the Slipp-Gruenhagen Co. covering their contract for repairs in the court house was read and approved.

A motion was made and carried appointing James A. Sorneson Assessor in the First Assessment District and Lewis Mason for the Second Assessment District.

A letter from C. C. Andrews, State Forestry Commissioner, was read, requesting that the law in regard to fire wardens be published, and upon motion the request was complied with.

The question of contract No. 3 on state road No. 2 in Oak Lawn, was taken up. Ritari Bros., having declined to take up the work. The plans have been changed somewhat and new ones filed and a motion prevailed directing the auditor to advertise for new bids to be opened Saturday evening, April 16th, at the auditor's office.

The county surveyor was instructed to prepare plans for new water pipes on the court house grounds and also for new sewer connections.

The auditor was instructed to advertise for bids for new tile floor in the court house corridor, same to be received at the May 3rd meeting.

A motion prevailed to transfer $1,000.00 from Ditch fund to the county revenue fund in payment of monies heretofore used from the revenue fund for ditch work.

A balance of $205.23 in the special Road and Bridge fund was transferred to the general Road and Bridge fund.

Moved and carried that the county surveyor proceed to lay out plans for two miles of road construction on state highway, No. 3.

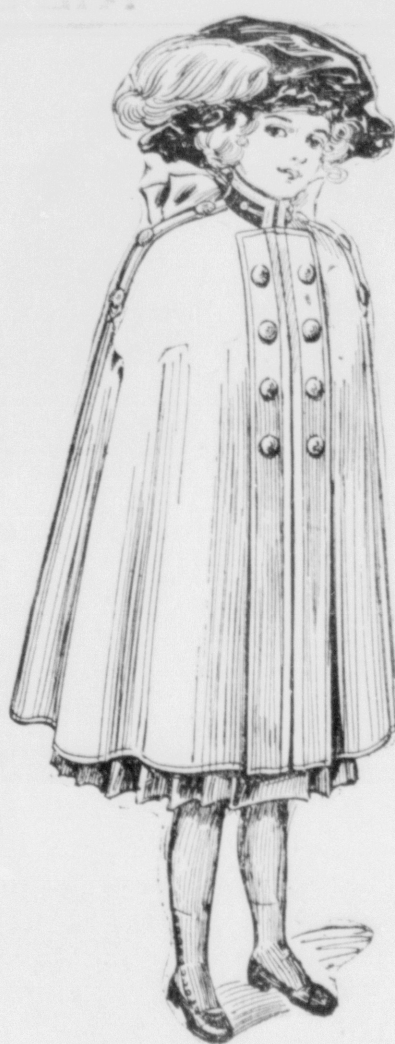

Application of S. E. Kate E. and M. C. Hayes for cancellation of taxes on Lots 9 to 16 and the East 90 feet of 17 in Block 65, town of Brainerd, for 1896 to 1909 inclusive, was recommended to the Minnesota Tax Commission on the ground that this property had been used all these years as a public market. The application of Herman Weideman on account of his house being burned prior to the assessment of 1909 was referred back to the assessor of Brainerd.

The following appropriations were made from the Road and Bridge fund:

Town of Klondyke, to be used on Section 32, $100.

Town of Little Pine, to be used for bridge between Sec. 10 and 11, $75.

Clothes Philosophy With a Money-Moral for You

Do you know how often a "Class A" man gets rated "Class B"—because his clothes misrepresent him?

Often enough to make it worth any man's while to consult a full-length mirror before he takes part in any business operation.

Do you want to look your level best—to carry the impress of a man worth while—a man who thinks enough of himself to study good appearance?

Let us show you the very cream of new styles—light and summery—right. And they bear the never-failing quality mark of

The House of Kuppenheimer

The designs and patterns, every one carries true distinction—there is not one commonplace style in the assortment.

And every man's kind of clothes—for the young, old, grave and gay.

Let the Baking Board Become your BOARD of EDUCATION

The principle of all baking powder is simply this: Certain elements are combined which, when they come in contact with moisture and heat, undergo a chemical change or reaction.

This reaction causes a gas which makes the baking puff up or rise. Now the very small part of the baking powder which remains in the food impurities in the food—it is chemically correct. Baking leavened with it contains no part that you eat, and not the original contents of the can.

For instance: In a Cream of Tartar Baking Powder—the Trust Brand—you do not eat Tartaric Acid, Rochelle Salts, Alum, Lime or Ammonia. Your baking will be lighter, sweeter and more delicious.

It does not cost as much as the Trust brand and is also more economical in use. It is a safe, reliable, higher in quality.

Guaranteed under every law in the—both State and National. Ask your Grocer—and find out.

UNCLE SAM'S CULINARY ADVICE

Government Experts Tell How to Cut Down Meat Bills.

ECONOMY IN CHEAPER CUTS.

Needless Waste of the Average Family and How to Correct It Are Shown. Importance of Utilizing Fats—Strong on Gravy and Dimpplings—How to Extract Marrow From Bones.

The secretary of agriculture's cook book is out. In it Uncle James Wilson, through his experts, tells the United States how to make poor cuts of meat taste as good as the best and also how to get just about as much nourishment from them.

The experts who prepared the cook book are C. E. Langworthy, Ph. D., and Caroline L. Hunt, A. D. They have found that the cheaper cuts of beef, such as the brisket, chuck rib, flank and neck, are just about as rich in the substances which build and repair important tissues of the body as porterhouse and sirloin steaks. For instance, in a chuck rib there is 19 per cent of protein as compared with only 21.9 in a porterhouse steak. Also in regard to the flavor of meats the department's cook book says there is a general misapprehension. Most persons believe expensive meats are the best flavored, while in reality the cuts on a side of beef often are richer in the extractives which produce the flavor than the higher priced cuts.

Fats Too Often Wasted.

The secretary's experts find that there is a good deal of unnecessary waste in the average home in treating the fats that come on the high priced cuts of meat. The loins and ribs of beef, for instance, contain from 20 to 25 per cent of fat. Instead of being thrown out into the garbage can, this, according to Secretary Wilson's cook book, ought to be utilized.

"If butter is the fat used in making crusts for meat pies and in preparing the cheaper cuts," says the official cook book, "there is little economy involved. The fats from other meat, therefore, should be saved, as they may be used in place of butter in such cases as well as in preparing many other foods. The fat from sausage or from the soup kettle or pot roast, which is savory because it has been cooked with vegetables, is peculiarly acceptable."

The experts think no chance should be overlooked to utilize gravy; also they recommend a greater use of the bones. Almost any bones can be used for soup, they say, and especially the rib bones, if they have a little meat left on them, can be grilled or roasted into palatable dishes.

Hotels Have Food Secrets.

"In this connection it may be noted," says the cook book, "that many of the dishes popular in good hotels are made of portions of meat such as frequently are thrown away in private homes, but which with proper cooking and seasoning make attractive dishes and give acceptable variety to the menu."

The government lays down a recipe for extracting the marrow from bones. "Bones are cut in convenient lengths," say the experts, "the ends covered with a little piece of dough, over which a flour cloth is tied, and cooked in boiling water for two hours. After removing the cloth and dough the bones are placed upright on toast and served. Prepared as above, the bones also may be baked in a deep dish."

One way to economize on your meat bill, according to the book, is to "extend the meat's flavor" over a certain number of other substances that are not meat. For instance, serve meat with dumplings and pie crusts or on toast and biscuits. You get the idea then that you are eating meat when really you are not. Borders of rice, hominy and mashed potatoes on meat dishes also are good for carrying out this lesson.

Recipe For "Best Dumpling."

A page or so of the report is devoted to dumplings and farina balls. The best dumpling is made from two cups of flour, four teaspoonsful of baking powder, two-thirds of a cup of milk, half a teaspoonful of salt and two teaspoonfuls of butter. You mix and sift the dry ingredients, work in the butter with the dry tips of the fingers, add the milk gradually, roll out to a thickness of one-half inch and cut with a biscuit cutter.

The cook book gives a long list of meat pies that can be used to supplant beefsteaks, chops and prime rib roasts. Meat turnovers, Turkish pilafs, pork and beans, bacon and cowpeas, Mexican beef and a haricot of mutton are some of the dishes that the experts find can be set on the table at small cost and at the same time give satisfactory nourishment. The cook book tells how to make use of leftover corned beef hash. A slice of toast is some times used under hash. This suggests a way of utilizing a small amount of corned beef hash which would otherwise be insufficient for a meal.

The cook book tells how to make tough meat tender by pounding it or soaking it in vinegar, how to accentuate the flavor of tasteless meats, how to make good milk gravy for salt pork, mock venison out of plain beef and a kitchen bouquet.

The cook book will be furnished free to all who apply to the department.

One More Thing to Try.

The discouraged mother sighed as she confessed wearily, "We have whipped our little Jim, coaxed him, shut him up, bribed him, made him go without his meals—in fact, we have done everything we could think of to break his will, but so far we haven't been successful."

"If you want his will broken," was the bitter suggestion of a friend who had lately been disappointed in not receiving an expected legacy, "you'd better take him to a lawyer."—Lippincott's.

Town of Dean Lake, to be used on road on N. and S. quarter line of Sec. 14, $50.

Town of Long Lake, to be used in Sec. 35 and 36 leading to Platte Lake road, $100.

For Gull Lake road in Sec. 5 Twp. 134, Rge. 29, $100.

For the Emily Swanberg road, $100, in Sec. 26, Twp. 138, Rge. 28 and $50 on north town line of Jenkins.

The two last items to be expended under the direction of Commissioner Krech.

Town of Daggett Brook, to fix bridge between Sec. 28 and 29, $100.

A motion was made and duly carried to allow the Chairman $25.00 per year additional salary.

The Northwestern Improvement company submitted a proposition to lease the mineral rights of the county farm at a royalty of 25 cents per ton annual minimum royalty to be 2500 tons, with an annual royalty of 10,000 tons additional for the first three years and 20,000 tons hereafter.

Whereupon Commissioner Krech introduced the following resolution, and moved its adoption:

Whereas, an offer or proposition for a lease of the mineral right in and upon certain lands of the county of Crow Wing, Minnesota, which are hereinafter described, has been made and filed in the office of the county auditor of said county; Therefore, Resolved that Saturday, the 14th day of May, 1910, at 2 o'clock p. m., at the office of said county auditor in the court house of said county, be and the same hereby is fixed as the time and place for considering said offer or proposition and any other offer or proposition for such lease that may in the meantime be filed for a lease of the mineral rights in and upon the following described lands in said county, to-wit: The Southwest quarter and the South half of the Northwest quarter of Section thirty-three, Township forty-five, Range thirty, lying and being in said county of Crow Wing and state of Minnesota, on the following terms and conditions, to-wit: Mining lease similar in general form to that provided by Section 2491 of the Revised Laws of Minnesota for 1905, for mining leases affecting state lands, such leases to be for a term not exceeding fifty years; to be issued upon a royalty basis; royalty to be not less than 25 cents per ton of 2240 pounds, and for a minimum amount of royalty to be determined and fixed by the terms of said lease, payable each year whether mineral is removed or not; said lease, if made, to provide for the protection, safety and use of any and all buildings situate on said lands as well as of the lands and property of said county adjoining said leased lands.

Said county is not to be bound to accept any offer or proposition for such lease unless the same is in all respects satisfactory to the County Board of said county, and said County reserves the right to reject any and all offers or propositions made for such lease.

The bond provided for by Chapter 319 of the laws of 1907 to be filed by each person or party making an offer or proposition for such lease.

Said resolution being seconded by Mr. Edquist, the same was put to a vote and carried unanimously, the ayes and nays being called, and was so declared by the Chairman.

The following report of the auditing committee was read, accepted and ordered placed on file:

We respectfully make the following report thereon:

PAGEANT TO HONOR LINCOLN

Martyr President's Nomination to Be Re-enacted at Chicago.

MANY ATTRACTIVE FEATURES.

All Living Delegates to Convention of 1860 to Be asked to Attend the Celebration—Member of Original "Wigwam" Body Will Help Build a Reproduction of It.

Every living delegate to the convention of 1860 will be asked to be a guest of the Lincoln Pageant association during the celebration in Chicago of the fiftieth anniversary of the nomination of President Abraham Lincoln, held in Chicago May 16 to 18, 1860, and James P. Root of Chicago, who was a member of the committee that supervised the erection of the "Wigwam," the building in which the convention was held, will be a member of the committee that will build a reproduction of it at the Coliseum.

Many Special Features.

Each day of the celebration week, beginning May 16, will be set aside for special features, the first to be governors' day, the second United States senators' day, the third lawyers' day and the fourth clerks' day, in honor of Lincoln's clerkship in a country store, where he studied law during his spare moments.

The fifth day, Friday—the anniversary—will be nomination day, and the spectacular convention will be reproduced, with its various demonstrations, speeches and fireworks. An effort is to be made to have every business house in Chicago decorate with flags, bunting or Lincoln emblems on that day.

The sixth day will be set aside for the Grand Army of the Republic, and a military demonstration and parade will be held by the soldiers, many of whom were familiar with the president.

Monday, May 23, will be president's day, and both President Taft and former President Theodore Roosevelt will be asked to be present.

The Aero Club of Chicago will be consulted in the matter of securing the international airplane races for that period. According to present plans the Cobe automobile races will be held at Crown Point, Ind., at that time. The Chicago and Columbia Yacht clubs will be asked to arrange for yacht races.

Editor Will Lecture.

During the celebration at the Coliseum H. W. Far, editor of the DeKalb Review, will lecture on the life of Lincoln and will show sketches of the great convention. Several of his pictures will be used in the erection of the various historical tableaux. Lincoln, in impersonation, again will be nominated for president of the United States. When the convention is over there will be a justification, according to the plans of the committee.

On the night of the nomination pictures of the various presidential possibilities before the convention will be displayed in fireworks above the Coliseum, and when the convention has decided on Lincoln as its candidate fireworks shooting skyward will form the words "Lincoln nominated." Mr. Root will seat the various delegations as they were on the day of the nomination in 1860, as near as he can remember.

Preparations are being made for a rail demonstration similar to that which took place during the memorable convention, and it is expected that many who took part fifty years ago will come forward as patriotically as they did when Chicago had but 100,000 population. An effort will be made to secure for this some of the rails from the Sangamon bottom district.

The arrangement committee has decided on a form of organization which will be known as the Lincoln Pageant association. It is said Thomas B. Knight will be president.

SHERMAN'S SELF REPROOF.

"The Chair Will Be In Order," He Announced After Sneezing Loudly.

For the first time that any member of the senate can remember the president of that body called himself to order the other day. Both "the offense" and "the reproof" were received by the ordinarily quiet statesmen with unrestrained laughter, and Mr. Sherman made no effort to check the applause that came from the galleries.

The routine business of the morning hour was dragging along monotonously when the vice president, yielding to an irresistible impulse, sneezed. It was a tumultuous sneeze in three syllables.

That started an uproar, and it had just subsided when, with a grin Mr. Sherman rapped with the little ivory gavel.

"The chair will be in order," he said. The applause started again.
